The barns were all burst - ing, the mo - ney bags filled,
There once was a young man came seek - ing our Lord,
Young Jim loved the Lord so he went with his wife,
Oh friend, won't you lis - ten to this say - ing true, but his haught - y heart want - ed more rich - es still.

but his earth - ly goods kept him from more keep - ing God's Word.
to jun - gles so dark there to tell of new life.
"Give all for the Sav - iour, He gave all for you".

11

He boast - ed that much big - ger barns would be full,
He went a - way sad - ly, his wealth would not give,
So will - ing to die e - ven for one lost soul,
Be sure some will mock you with curs - es and hate,

but left all be - hind him when God said "Thou fool".
and ne - ver for rich - es that last would he live.
his blood was the seed for a har - vest un - told.
but hea - ven's re - ward sure - ly will be your fate.

21 For he is no fool who will lay up in store,

26 his trea - sures in hea - ven and life e - ver - more,

31 and gives what he ne - ver can keep, should he choose,

36 for - e - ver to gain what he ne - ver can lose.
